

Tupli Shoes

By: Angela Stalikas Webb

Shoe lovers rejoice! Now there's no reason to see your heels coming and going (literally) on the city streets. Create your own signature footwear at Tupli, a custom couture European shoe salon that recently opened in New York City. Lots of blushing brides have walked down the aisle in these one-of-a-kind kicks; the designers handcraft shoes with pearls, crystals and gemstones for looks so stunning you'll wish short gowns were in style. Or bring in a pair of your blah Blahniks (if there is such a thing) and have them redesigned. Although you can't put a price tag on individuality, you can on these signature creations. Custom-made shoes start at $600, and boots at $1,200. Hey, being unique doesn't come cheap.
