

Skin Deep Magazine Launch Party At Bruno Jamais Restaurant & Club

January 10th 2006

Skin Deep Magazine Launch party took place at Bruno Jamais Restaurant/Club on the Upper Eastside of New York. The launch of Skin Deep Magazine featured Model Carol Alt on the cover. Emmy award winning soap star Susan Lucci will appear on the spring cover.

Skin Deep has a circulation of 500,000 readers nationwide and is available on newsstands and most Barnes and Nobles. In addition to Supermodel Carol Alt, other celebrity co-hosts and special guests included, all my children star Natalia Cigliuti, Apprentice Star Kwame Jackson, singer Samantha Cole, New Anchorwoman Lynne White who begins a new stint on Court TV Hollywood Heat in January 5th, also mass media attended in large numbers as well as Politicians and many more socialites.

Carol Alt has a new USA Today best selling book called Eating in the Raw. She autographed many books for the Launch Party. Skin Deep was created by Board Certified Plastic Surgeon Dr. Jeannette Martello. Dr Martello has reviewed cases involving medical mistakes for 20 years given the fact that she also has a law degree. She noted the public's ravenous appetite for information while hosting two popular nationally syndicated Skin Deep talk radio shows. Skin Deep was created in order to supply patients and consumers with information that can help them make the right decisions and find the right specialists for their needs. Education and guidance are the most important aspects of the Skin Deep Magazine, the Skin Deep book series and informative website. This was a great Launch Party very professionally organized, by KMR Communications Inc, President Katherine Rothman and her staff members.
