

Thu Apr 28, 2005

As Seen In Metro: Customize Your Wedding

Today in our metro column we gave ideas for how brides everywhere can have everything from invitations to tiara's made to their specifications. You can read more about our wedding picks in our Wedding Guide.

If you can pull yourself away from your computer then pay a visit to Tupli, on the Upper East Side of NYC, where brides can create one-of-a-kind shoes. The intimate salon houses European-imported materials such as, diamonds, beads, leather, suede, satin, color swatches, and anything else your feet desire. Brides work with a creative designer and illustrator and create their perfect Cinderella slippers. Each shoe is molded to the customer's feet in order to assure the best fit.

