Artist Cyrille Margarit jet sets around the world from the dangerous jungles of Africa to the glamorous cities of Europe to the glittery Cannes Film Festival photographing capturing images of landscapes and celebrities like Ivana Trump, Russell Simmons and Bruce Willis.

Recently, KMR Communications and Bruno Jamais presented a collection of his work exhibited at Bruno Jamais Restaurant Club for select members of the media - including The New York Observer, 201 Magazine, PBS Television, Black Tie International Magazine, US Weekly, Harper's Bazaar, Womens Wear Daily, and People Magazine.

Manhattan Cablevision Host Cognac Wellerlane of Cognac's Corner was on hand to interview artist Mr. Margarit as he revealed his special technique of showcasing digital images projected onto sheets of brushed aluminum, as well as his love of photography, art, American culture, and his profound love of the American woman's sophistication.

Asked what it was like to work with Ivana Trump, Margarit responded: "She commissioned me to photograph her yacht and she was really sweet." He also enjoyed working with prize fighter Mike Tyson, and particularly adored photographing Madonna. "She possesses amazing energy which was incredible to capture on film."
