

PHOTO GALLERY

Alex McCord Book Party at Bruno Jamais

The ultra luxurious Bruno Jamais Restaurant Club in Manhattan played host to Bravo TV's "Real Housewives of New York" stars Alex Mc Cord and Simon van Kempen. The party was attended by hundreds of media eager to get the latest scoop on Alex and Simon's upcoming parenting book. "Johan, our youngest son appears more in season two because he's a bigger boy," "But with Francois, we have a star in the making," said Van Kempen to a People magazine reporter at the event.

Alex McCord, KMR Chief Executive Katherine Rothman, TV Host Cognac Wellerlane and Simon Van Kempen pose at the party. Season two of the show premieres on February 17th, but Alex and Simon had to remain mum on the reality antics and potential catfights among the housewives.

Simon sweeps Alex off her feet as partiers look on. Guests were treated to delicious fare from Bruno Jamais Restaurant along with tasting tables from G'Vine Gin and Voodoo Tiki Tequila.

Restaurant Owner and Host Bruno Jamais with Katherine Rothman and WCBS Reporter Dr. Max Gomez. A charity raffle was held to benefit the Make A Wish Foundation. Among the items donated were a $4,500 necklace courtesy of precious jewelry designer Rebecca Koven, www.rkoven.com

An incredible crowd fill the restaurant to soak in the atmosphere and hear about the new book. In the silent auction, guests also had a chance to bid on a Marilyn Monroe collection pursue from www.cyndyesty.com; a weekend stay at The Hotel Chandler; a rare collectors item box and Voodoo Tiki Tequila bottle; <http://www.voodooTiki.com> an NBA player's duffle bag; a cashmere duster from www.minnierose.com and numerous other fabulous prizes.

Steve Hall and from Voodoo Tiki Tequila and restaurant owner Bruno Jamais. Aside from the fare offered by Bruno, all guests left with gift bags from Make Love Not Trash, <http://www.makelovenottrash.com> filled with gift certificates, beauty products and other lifestyle goodies.

