

AlyWalansky.com

July 2, 2010

Covet Restaurant and Lounge Launch Party

Beauty and fashion may be my first love, but food and cocktails are way up there as well.

A few nights ago, with my bestie Allie G. as my date, I attended a sexy cocktail blowout hosted by Bravo network reality star from The Real Housewives of New York, Ramona Singer to celebrate the newly opened Covet Restaurant & Lounge.

It was one of those nights that I had to hit four things in three hours, and so by the time we met up and got there, the party was already in full swing – and it was so crowded I couldn't even find like ten of my other friends who were there!

But you have to love a restaurant that will serve hors d'oeuvres that range from fried risotto balls (amazing!) to yellowtail sashimi.

The executive Chef John Keller is actually formerly from Bruno Jamais — the home of the most amazing chocolate souffle ever to enter my tummy — and is now creating sexy eclectic Asian Mediterranean cuisine at this trendy hot spot. I love fusion!

